

MAKES BACKACHE QUICKLY DISAPPEAR

A Few Doses Relieves All Such Miseries. Bladder Weakness, Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism Promptly Vanish

It is no longer necessary for any one to suffer with backaching, kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders to contend with, or be tortured with rheumatism, stiff joints, and its heart-wrenching pains, for the new discovery, Crozene, quickly and surely relieves all such troubles.

Crozene is the most wonderful remedy yet devised for ridging the system of ureic acid and driving out all the poisonous impurities which cause such troubles. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. It acts on the principle of cleansing out the poisons and removing the cause.

It soaks right in through the walls, membranes and linings, like water in a sponge, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys soft out and filter away, all the ureic acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, healthy and well.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have used, the very principle of Crozene is such, that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it.

If you suffer with pains in your back and sides, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles, or rheumatism, such as puffy swellings under the eyes or in the legs and ankles, if you are nervous, tired, and run down, or bothered with urinary disorders, Crozene will quickly release you of your misery. You can secure an original package of Crozene at trifling cost from any druggist drugstore. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

KRESS COUNTRY WHEAT CROP FINE

FARMERS EXPECT TO HARVEST
25 to 30 BUSHELS PER ACRE
THIS YEAR

BY G. R. CALDWELL,
Special to The News

ELKHORN, TEXAS, May 20.—The word Kress could now be changed to "crest"—as the towns surrounding Elkhorn are crested with bumper-growing wheat; the crests of irrigation pumps are becoming country landmarks, and the town itself will ride high this year on the crest of a big wave of business prosperity.

Kress region farmers last fall sowed wheat in fields of from 10 to 100 acres and these fields are now approaching the fruition of a harvest promise which, in some instances, will probably reach 25 bushels per acre while rental crop marketing of wheat fields has already netted farmers from $5 to $7 per acre.

Well Pummeled Irrigation.

The Kress region is a portion of the great shallow saline belt of the South Plains and is soon to be fully developed in the well planned irrigation direction by the Texas Land & Development Company, while in the meantime, individuals will pummeled irrigation plants.

The Metzger well will irrigate 1,500 acres this year and F. T. Skjærup is just completing a similar plant to which will be added a larger reservoir, the final total irrigation capacity of the plant being three hundred acres. E. K. Goff has recently founded an irrigation company, based on a Chinese plan, and a dirt excavated reservoir he is soon irrigating 200 acres of wheat and oats.

In the putting in of this small irrigation plant, Mr. Goff has set an intelligent example which can be well followed by every farmer in the Kress region, as such a plant means an assured farm family living and if all of these farms were thus irrigation equipped—a possible dream would be shown of its realization.

Coming Shows.

The Kress region has the peculiar advantage of being the home scene of the invention of an excellent oil well by Manner J. J. Harris of the Kress Lumber Co. as the inventor and many of those who will operate this fall and winter, meat beef and pork producers.

Kress.

Kress is on the Santa Fe railroad in the southern portion of Wichita county and has drawn business of Elkhorn, Hale and Castro counties. The town has a strong and healthy radiating bank, and excellent lumber yard (feed mill), a hotel and aggregate factory, a good dry goods and a hardware store.

J. P. Lang, banker, knows no "The last night" on account of his wife's attending a good hotel high grade moral and inspired purity, and personally speaking, is O. K. from the moral stand and hotel. He is looking forward to the recent fall show of banker skipperish.

The town has an efficient independent telephone system owned and operated by Bill Taylor—with the assistance of a lady operator who is a great talker.

ing of decree, before the same shall take effect.

The following provides concerning exhortation of law as to marriage and divorce, to wit:

"That if any person or persons being resident of this state shall go into another state or country with intent to evade or violate any or the laws of this state pertaining to marriage or divorce, and there contract a marriage or obtain a divorce, prohibited by the said laws, then such marriage or divorce shall be null and void for all purposes of this state, with the same effect as though such prohibited marriage or divorce had been contracted into this state."

The committee called attention to the fact that some of its suggestions had to do with offering to nominate legislation on the matter of uniform laws for divorce.

MENTIONED FOR MODERATOR.

Species to the Pres.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 20.—For two days consideration and voting to the 190th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church have been given in Chicago, and at noon yesterday practically all of those who will attend were in the city. Many of the delegates from the East came by special train. Every arrangement for the comfort of the 500 commissioners has been completed, and the general auditorium of the new Fourth Presbyterian Church, which commanded the admiration of all, is ready for the opening moderator to ascend the rostrum and deliver the opening sermon.

Through there are no candidates for the moderatorship in the strict sense of the word, supporters of the several prominent clergymen whose names have been mentioned for the honor have engaged today in an active though good natured canvass. The game most frequently heard in the interval discussions among the commissioners and other church leaders is that of the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, of the First Church of Pittsburgh, Dr. Alexander stood second in the voting in the general assembly last year and his friends are preparing to make a vigorous stand in his behalf at the present gathering. The candidates of the Rev. George S. Storer, president of Auburn Theological Seminary, also appears to be gaining ground.

KING OPPOSED TO SUNDAY TRAVEL

moral relations, being supported wholly or in part by their occasional earnings, or engaging in occasional immorality not for profit, but from desire. There is no possible way of estimating this larger number, but the word "immoral" seems scarcely adequate to describe the conditions known to be present.

"If the code existing in Chicago may be taken as anything like an accurate gauge to that prevailing throughout this country, it seems entirely safe to assert that at least 100,000 persons are devoting their time wholly to this unthinkable immorality in the United States, and it is most probable that the number is very much larger. Most students of the problem would place the figures two or three times as high."

On the much-discussed subject of education in matters of sex the report was that:

"The methods of greatest wisdom and largest efficiency are still to be discovered. But it is believed of your Committee that hitherto a large majority of those persons responsible for the education, guidance and nurture of youth have followed an unfortunate course regarding the great sacred truths of life. This course has been one of silence and indecision at a rate that attitude of parents and teachers of youth has the psychological effect of stimulating curiosity, with the almost universal result that children acquire distorted viewpoints and morbid misconceptions of great truths that rightly understood from the first would engender a feeling of reverence for life and respect for all life processes. These seem therefore, but one rational course for earnest minded Christians to follow. That course is to answer the natural questions of their children freely, frankly, fully, sincerely and sympathetically."

Speaking of factors in the increase of the social evil which are now assuming alarming proportions, the report says:

"One of these appears in the vagrancy tendency of modern fashion. Our Standards," we remember, expressly forbid all "unmanned apparel." Today many of our women are going to such extremes of dress as to shock even the least prudish and open American womanhood to the charge of a complete forfeiture of modesty. The unfortunate side of it all is, that the women of the Church, whose most conspicuous adornment is supposed to be meekness, are quite as guilty of this offense as are women who make no religious profession. The clothes of fashion, their vanity and influence alike, entice all extremes of dress and seeking to lead society in a more worthy and whole some direction.

Another contributory factor is the increasing craze for excitable and unwise amusements. The dance, however, perhaps, what could be wished, has become the object of indecently vulgar vice, and is calling out the contamination of many holding high places of ecclesiastical authority. The moving picture shows, although under what is claimed to be strict censorship, are calculated to inflame the thoughts and emotions of the young. The theatre, with its outrageously flagrant handling of sex problems and situations, as well as the notorious disregard of so many of its leaders for high standards of marital and even ordinary moral relations, is laying a net that must ensnare and capture a considerable part of our rising generation.

The iteration of the day presents another very serious factor in this evil problem. Perhaps we are not mistakes when we speak of it as one of the most alarming symptoms of a general condition that seems bad indeed. Surely every work of fiction that is printed today has won somewhere in its plot the intricacy of a sex question. The books review are a long series of descriptions of such stories. One would imagine there was no other problem in people's minds today. And the most grave feature of it seems to be that this is what they appear to want.

It may be that the flood of unclean literature, while much to be deplored, could not have been altogether unexpected, and is partly an evidence of an awakened conscience if this element of hopefulness is conceivable, and is real, we will rejoice in it.

The report sees real danger in what we believe inheres in the too general and indiscriminate publicity given to questions of sex in the name of "education," but qualifies the statement as follows:

"It is understood, of course, in all that is said above, that there is only commendation and high praise for every movement that would give constructive education to children, youths and parents, to enlarge their ideals concerning self and sex, and to safeguard them from evil. No word of warning here given should be construed as intrinsic to high-minded movements of this nature, or unsympathetic with the noble purpose they seek to serve."

The report concludes with a set of resolutions calling upon pastors to ward off against all factors of life which conduce to immorality: commanding those pastors who have taken up the subject frankly with fathers and mothers, and calling upon others to do so; recognizing the work of juvenile courts; demanding the punishment of men as well as women offenders against morality; and approving all legislation looking to the eradication of prostitution.
